WHY YOU SHOULD SELECT THIS DIET

Did you know that small dogs have different requirements compared to larger breed dogs? Their smaller size and higher metabolic rate means they need more calories per kilogram of body weight per day. Because of this Ultra Pet has developed a specialized formula to cater to the specific needs of small breed dogs.

The size and shape of the kibble is specifically designed to accommodate their smaller mouths, stomachs, and digestive tracts making it easier for small dogs to chew and digest.

The nutrient-dense kibble provides small breed dogs with the necessary calories, high-quality protein, and essential amino acids.

In addition to the essential nutrients, the diet includes omega-3 & 6 fatty acids, which are beneficial for maintaining a healthy, shiny coat.

Small dogs tend to have a longer life span. With this in mind, the formulation includes glucosamine, chondroitin and green-lipped mussel extract to support aging joints.

This highly nutritious diet also contains kaolin to help support healthy digestion, helping to prevent constipation and alleviate other upset tummy symptoms.
